

SORM 200 Instructional Video

Part 1 – Category I – Training and Education

Welcome to SORM's instructional videos about the SORM 200. This video focuses on Category I (Training and Education) of Part I.

Category I collects the expenditure of educating the risk management employees, who were identified in Category F, to improve their risk management understanding or skills.

Add up all of the training and education expenses related to risk management, and round this number to the nearest whole dollar. The amount that you come up with is what you will enter for Category I in the SORM 200.

Return to the RMIS web page and enter this into the appropriate field.

In this example, you would enter the Training and Education amount as $875. Then click on the "Submit" button.

You have now completed Category I of Part I.

SORM recommends, as a good risk management practice, each agency updates its risk management information located in the SORM Risk Evaluation and Planning System or REPS, which can be found inside the RMIS online system along with the SORM 200.
